'The Christmas Radio Times' Robert Mee

The BBC's RadioTimes has been an integral part of Christmas for as long as the BBC has been there. This talk looks at the changing nature of festive programmes, both on the radio and that new-fangled television thing, from 1923 to 2000. A genuine 'history' talk, but one which is likely to bring back a fair few memories. Robert is a qualified trainer, holds an MA in English Local History and has conducted several research projects based around and along the Derbyshire / Nottinghamshire border.

The Rector Writes ...

What do you like best about Christmas?

Dear Friends,

I asked children in one school assembly, what they liked best about Christmas. The initial answers were about presents or food, but then a child spoke about spending time with his dad. Usually his dad was so busy with long hours at work, but at Christmas they had quality time together. And all the children who spoke afterwards echoed that thought – good times with their families was more important than the new bike, or chocolate or whatever... But it is not always easy. Food, presents and fitting in with the complications of extended families can be difficult and time consuming.

The final reading of many of our carol services includes the words about Jesus:

to all who did receive him, he gave the right to become children of God in all the busyness of my life over the coming weeks, I try to make space for my heavenly Father..... and for Jesus, our heavenly "brother" as we are all children of God.

The final verse of O little town of Bethlehem says:

O holy Child of Bethlehem
Descend to us, we pray
Cast out our sin and enter in
Be born to us today
We hear the Christmas angels
The great glad tidings tell
O come to us, abide with us
Our Lord Emmanuel

I hope that every time we sing, or hear it sung, we will all be able to make space and pause and let God in.

We hope and pray that you have a wonderful, peaceful and joyful Christmas, with our love and prayers,

Peter

Ashover Children's Groups

Craft Club and Allsorts have had a very busy and creative term.

In September we packed shoeboxes to go to older people for Christmas

Thank you to everyone who contributed. We have sent 43 shoeboxes, which will really make the recipients feel loved. In October we celebrated Harvest and thought about everything we are thankful for.

In November we made a beautiful picture for Remembrance Sunday and we had a time of lighting candles for prayers of remembrance at Craft Club
